9th October 2025

On Wednesday, 22nd October 2025, the children will enjoy a fascinating visit from Mr Alan Ames also known as “The Birdman” — founder of the Eagle Heights Wildlife Foundation in Eynsford, Kent.

During his talk, Mr Ames will introduce the children to four amazing Birds of Prey and share his deep knowledge about their ecology, conservation, and the important roles they play in nature. By bringing these magnificent birds into schools, Mr Ames helps children understand more about predators, adaptation, and how the natural world works, while inspiring everyone to care for and protect our wildlife.

After the presentation there will be an opportunity for the children to have their photograph taken holding one of the birds on their gloved hand. The photograph will be 7” x 5” in a mount, and will cost £7.00. (siblings can have one photograph together). There is also the option to purchase additional copies at £3.00 each. Payment will need to be paid on parent pay. If you wish your child/children to be photographed, please call into the office for a permission slip. Without permission slips and payment, photographs cannot be taken. The photographs will be ready for collection at the school approximately 5-6 working days after the visit.

GDPR COMPLIANCE : The photographs are taken by Mr. Ames on a digital camera. The images are downloaded onto a laptop and the images erased from the memory card. The images are then uploaded to www.photobox.co.uk who print the pictures and send them directly to the school. The images are stored on the laptop for 28 days in case any duplicate pictures are requested or any get damaged in transit. The images are then permanently deleted. Images or pictures are not shared with any other third party or published elsewhere. Vulnerable children. The photograph can be printed at the school and the digital image deleted immediately.

As always if you have any questions or concerns please speak to us.

Yours sincerely
